

Press release 4th October 2024
Oxfordshire Artweeks present their Christmas Season

Art by Alison Morris, Penny Varley, Jo Lillywhite, Valerie Petts, Alison Vincent and Kate Hipkiss

From Friday 1st November, Oxfordshire Artweeks artists welcome you to Christmas events across Oxfordshire. In addition Artweeks is presenting an on-line Winter Show which includes art by more than 100 local artists. This show is a taster of the variety of art, craft and design in many media that will be available to see and buy during the Oxfordshire Artweeks Christmas Season.

This Winter Show celebrates the joy of the season, bring together the variety, colour and joy of Oxfordshire's creative talent. With dozens of pieces to browse, the exhibition sparkles with handmade gift ideas for Christmas.

The selection takes you from the rich red treasures of autumn to snowy mountains and the traditional nativity; stroll along the promenade as the waves whip high above you, or savour the festive cheer of a street scene at Christmas. Spot a pretty red-legged partridge, resplendent against tangerine orange, or see Joan Collins as you've never before imagined her.

Along with local views, there's jewellery made from silver and sea glass, ceramics in many guises, and a White Horse Hill lamp to light up dark nights as the robin sings his winter song. It's great to #buylocal.
